

Kootenai Valley Mennonite Church in Bonners Ferry, ID hosts the retreat. A committee of men from the congregation takes care of all logistics and run the camp for us. They provide the horses, tents, food and do the cooking as well. They teach basic horse riding skills for new riders and provide leadership in all the trail rides.

Our hope is that those who attend are men interested in being passionate representatives of God's Kingdom. Our goal is to provide ongoing opportunities in community to share that journey.

Experience the Father's presence & embrace

We invite you to step away from the demands of your life and spend time with a small group of men in the Rockies seeking and sharing what it means to live richly as men in His image.

The Rocky Mountain Wilderness Retreat is a five-day exhilarating experience in the high Rockies with men sharing their hearts and reflecting together on what it means to be men of purpose and impact.

Bring your warm sleeping bags and riding apparel as we come face to face with some of God's beautiful, rugged outdoors.

Cost for the five days includes: accommodations (tent space), food and pick-up from Spokane Airport.

We hope you will experience the Father's presence and His embrace in new ways as you drink deeply of His goodness through small group activities, breathtaking scenery, times of solitude, and personal reflection.

Highlights of your week

will include:

- Getting acquainted/forming community
- Exploring issues of being a real man in the world in which we're each called to live
- Looking at our story as it unfolds in God's larger story
- Cold bathing and hearty, manly meals
- Sharing stories, caring, and praying with each other
- Activities (daily, rugged riding trips to mountain peaks)
- Fireside fellowship
- Creating your own timeline
